Our Core Principles:

We are confidential

We do not identify our visitors or discuss their concerns with anyone without their permission. The only exceptions to this pledge of confidentiality are when the Ombuds determines that there is an imminent threat of harm or in the are instance that the Ombuds is legally compelled to report the situation.

We are independent

We reportdirectly to the President and Chief Executive Officer of MCWWe are independent of central administrative offices and are not aligned with any campus department or group.

We are informal

Any communication with us is "off the record"; the OmbudsOffice is not authorized to receive official notice for MCW.

We areimpartial

We do not take sidesWe consider the rights and interests of all parties. We are advocates for good communication and fair process.

The total visit count also includes 44 exit interviews with faculty and staff. Exit interviews are offered to faculty who are retiring, have elected to leave for career advancement or personal reasons, or have not had their MCW contracts extended. Staff exit interviews are conducted at the request of the departing staff member. In 2021, exitinterviews were 13% of total visits to the Ombuds Office.

Visitor Concerns

During the 2021 calendar year,1450 concerns were raised by visitors to the Ombuds Office. These issues and/or concerns are detailed in in the IOA Category Table included Appendix A. Figures reflecting 2012/2021

f Unclear lines of responsibility or authority for responding to leader performance concerns may also limit responsiveness. In some cases, multiple offices maintain consultative roles to departmentevel issues without clear authority to intervene. This contributes to a perception that consulting offices such as Human Resources, Faculty Affairs, and Corporate Compliance may be aligned with and/or protective of faculty and department or center leveleadership. In 2021, MCW engage Korn Ferry, an organizational designconsulting firm, to assess executive leadership structure and governance Based on that assessmentsome reporting structures have changed and Human Resources is conducting a detailed analysis of the reporting lines

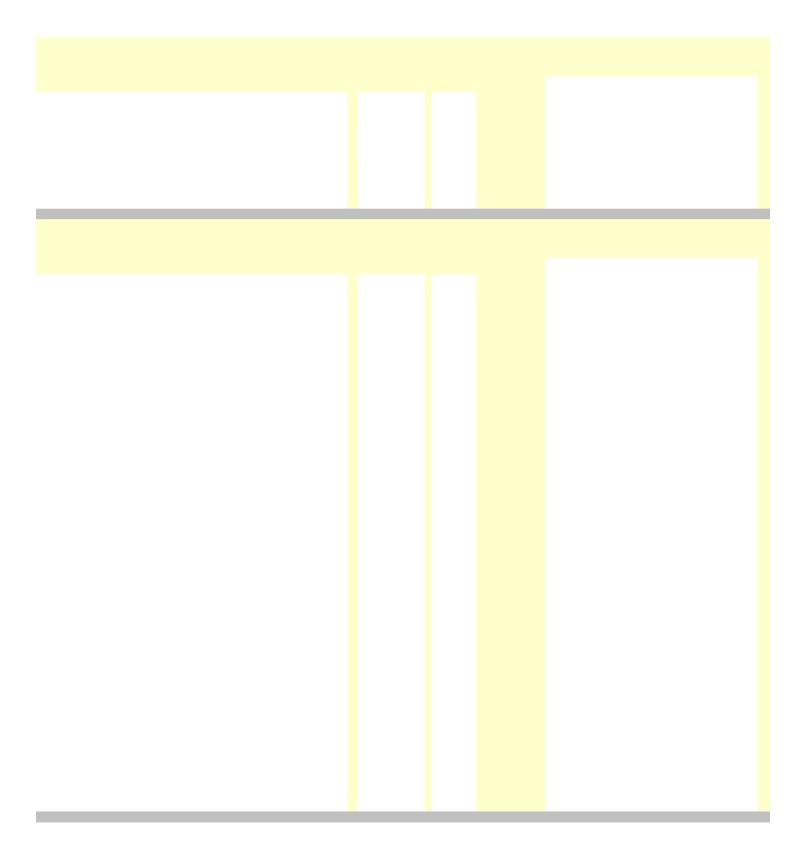

Organizational Culture

- f Some employees worry that consultation with an office outside of their immediate area about a leader will increase tension and/or result repercussions. This includes consultation withCorporate Compliance, Faculty Affairls,uman Resources, and the Ombust Office.
- f Some employees eport that disagreement with their leader(s) is unwelcome and/or perceived as confrontational or insubordinate, despite intentions to be
